KICKED IN THE FACE

Farmer Near Redmond Has Nose Torn Off.

SKULL FRACTURED OVER EYE

Twenty-Six Stitches Taken in and Filed from the Two Wounds.

About to o'clock last Tuesday morning, E. H. Lockyer, a farmer from near Redmond, was kicked in the face by a horse and his nose torn off in a semi-conscious state nearly 100 hours after the accident, and now in a critical condition.

Mr. Lockyer and a neighbor were hunting on the banks of the Deschutes River when the horse kicked. Lockyer got up the old and was trying to get to the bank when the horse kicked him and Lockyer couldn't see just what he did. Anyway, the horse kicked and the old man was knocked down. He lies on the side of the road in a semi-conscious state to this day. As soon as word could be phoned to Bend Dr. Turley was called. He hurried to the Lockyer home, accompanied by Dr. Scott. Dr. Scott found that Mr. Lockyer had been kicked in the eye and it was necessary to remove several pieces of skin bone. The bridge of the nose and about one-fourth of the curtain of the eye. It took them two hours to dress that wound and six in the forehead. It was necessary to remove the muscles of the eye, and stitch around the nose up to the other eye. The doctor says that the nose will probably be a little flat between the eyes but otherwise will be all right, and that the injured man will be able to recover if no complications set in.

DO NOT BUY MONEY ORDERS.

Krancesch's Should Be Made by Drafts.

Shortly after the financial stringency started Postmaster General re-established a regulation requiring postoffice receipts, in cash, to Portland. The result is that each week a certain number of these receipts are shipped out of this section at a time when it is most badly needed. Here are two ways of posting the money in the local bank and a bank draft forwarded: The only way to overcome this is to keep the money in this vicinity for those who desire to make remittances to outside parties to do so through a bank draft instead of a postoffice money order. Your money will thus be kept at home and will help to keep the wheels of local business revolving until the money is needed and not until the flow of currency is again resumed through the local banks. No more money should be sent out of the vicinity than is absolutely necessary. Let everyone help in this respect.

When Greens On Summer Follow.

George Rodman a farmer near Culver, raised about 5000 tons of grain on his place this year and he had it marketed and shipped at Prineville, his oats bringin from one to one and a half cents per bushel. He is looking forward to a very good season also, as this year he has been sowing the land, which those farmers who are making a success of the business in this country are finding to be the most satisfactory of this season. On one hundred and fifty acres of land near Laidlaw, White Winter wheat on September 13, and so near the surface was the moisture that the stalks were seven feet high. The fall summer follow that within eight days the grain had sprouted. This crop is now up about four inches and beginning to make good leaf. Laidlaw is one of the most successful farmers in this end of the country and he has accumulated about a thousand acres of good farming land through his own efforts—Madras Pioneer.

CASH IS NOT DEMAND

Many a good men have been requested lately that the library and reading room be opened.

Library is wanted.

Final Proofs Suspended 30 Days to Allow Library to Raise the Necessary Money.

When the financial flurry reached Bend and the local money market was closed, the City Council in its wisdom determined to forego the city library. The Cnty Council was for a time of these days, until such time as the necessary funds had been raised or the collection perfected to do so, but the scarcity of money knocked their plans in the head and they were confronted by a serious situation. The City Council has, on a certain view of management if the institution is to be opened under its present organization the following points:

1. That it be put on a rational footing.
2. That its financial support be assured for at least a year.
3. That the people not raise the necessary amount in cash and the question be referred to the people as to whether or not the city would be forced to loan the claims.

Commissioner Ellis at one took DeLashmutt to state at once to the officials at The Dalles and asked for instructions. In reply there was a promise that the Dalles offer by Commissioners Ballinger of the general office at Washington, the grant reads.

To Commissioner, U. S. Sec. of the Interior: We, your duly authorized agents of the Town of The Dalles offer by Commissioners Ballinger of the general office at Washington, the former.

Under this provision proofs are being taken by Commissioner Ellis that the advertisement be called for a five years forward to The Dalles. At the expiration of the 30 days grant any person may purchase this land although he is generally believed to have the right in order to assure the city library financial strain is not relieved therefrom.

Commissioner Ellis is a sharp advertiser and other advertising fees should be paid at time of taking deeds and if a mistake it would be forced to loan the claims.

It is very probable that the Columbia Southern Irrigation project will be taken over by Ben. Van Buren, the new owner of the project and the land over 20 acres, although the wind is generally believed to have the right in order to assure the city library financial strain is not relieved therefrom.

The plan to hire some lady for a small salary to act as librarian and keep the library open six days of each week, the exact time to be decided later. The first work will be to provide for her salary so that it will be absolutely assured that the room will be kept open and managed properly. If enough contributions can be secured to support the librarian such a position will be worked out. Funds will be provided for a list of the best magaazine of books entered for the library.

The ladies are expected to act as librarian and put in the work in providing a library that will have no difficulty in existing the support and co-operate with the librarian to make the undertaking a success.
