VOLUNTEER SERVICES
2018/2019
Volunteers enrich our library in many ways. They bring enthusiasm, added talent, and fresh perspective to the library. Volunteers contribute to sound working relationships with recognized agencies as well as with community groups and organizations. The many hours of volunteer service shared with us represent not only a tremendous monetary value to our libraries, but an immeasurable value in service to our local and global communities.

VOLUNTEER SPOTLIGHT: LINDA CHURCH

Ten years of volunteering with the Sunriver Library has only deepened Linda’s commitment to serving her community. Happy in retirement, she helps with shelving, the paging list, AV inspection, and whatever task needs to be done. She enjoys discovering new authors and genres as she goes about her work.

Linda also volunteers at the High Desert Museum and enjoys seeing a range of people of all ages who visit the library and the museum, and says both organizations help create community as well as happy community members.

Linda’s generosity shines through with her sense of giving to her community and her willingness to be available to the library in whatever capacity needed. Volunteering is a core value of Linda’s, and she encourages anyone interested in sharing their time to take the leap.

After many years as a family practice doctor Linda finds joy in the big and small things of life. Walking, gardening, being with family and seeing her children’s growth provides a tremendous sense of joy and satisfaction for Linda. And for the huge commitment to her community and the library, we thank Linda for all she does!

VOLUNTEER SPOTLIGHT:
ZACH DENHART

It’s clear after visiting with Zach for a few minutes how passionate he is about computers. Zach attends COCC for network administration and cybersecurity, but still finds time to volunteer weekly at the Redmond Library. He helps customers with computer questions. His love of computers and working with them and with people really shine through when he talks about his work.

While Zach provides valuable assistance at the library, he says he also gets something out of the interactions. "It keeps me sharp with troubleshooting," he says, with each unique situation also giving him the opportunity to work with a variety of people.

Zach says being able to show people a faster way to do things on the computer makes him happy, and he loves hearing, "It would have taken forever if you weren’t here to help!" When assisting a customer in navigating the world of online job applications, Zach hopes his help makes a difference.

Zach also volunteers with an online gaming community facilitating a positive atmosphere for those playing games. It may seem that Zach spends most of his days in front of a computer but don’t be misled, one of his favorite things to do is to hop in a car and go on a road trip with no destination in mind, but to just get out and explore!
THANK YOU, VOLUNTEERS!
